

Organizations for Transparency

There are a number of NGOs focused on transparency and anti-corruption activity.

Transparency International has over 100 national chapters worldwide and an international secretariat in Berlin. They work with partners in government, business and civil society to put effective measures in place to tackle corruption.

Transparency International's Advocacy and Legal Advice Centres \(ALACs\) provide free and confidential legal advice to witnesses and victims of corruption. There are a number of ALACs that are already using Ushahidi as part of their programs:

(Interview with Milena Marin, Transparency International, Data and Technology Coordinator (March 2013))