

Buckets

A bucket consists of a group of hand-picked droplets from selected from a river. Buckets serve as a mechanism for reducing a River from a torrent of drops to a more manageable set.

